

For Immediate Release
September 25, 2023

OLLI at DU (Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Denver University)

Contact: Bruce Caughey,
OLLI at DU Marketing and Communications Director, 303-815-7264

Possible photos attached

The joy of lifelong learning: Come for the courses and stay for the connections.

Registration for the fall term just opened, and we would love to have you join us. No grades, no exams...learning designed for adults 50+ just for the love of it! Come check us out at olli.du.edu or use the QR code below.

OLLI at DU (Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Denver University) is rolling out our new fall term courses and we are excited. Stop by to browse the flipbook of offerings (4-6 and 8-week courses—online and in person) taught by facilitators who have a passion for their subjects. And we offer more courses during winter and spring terms. Check out our new integrated flipbook of courses at olli.du.edu.

Here are examples from our current coursebook:

- Major Advances in Science & Our View of Reality
- Famous Engineering Failures
- National Treasures of Britain
- Bees, Butterflies, and Beyond: The World of Pollinators (at the Butterfly Pavilion)
- Great Film Directors

In addition, OLLI at DU has a new slate of membership benefits that provide social connections and access to 50 live webinars annually. And if travel is your thing, join other OLLI members for any of six domestic and international trips, including a New York theatre trip this fall.

Whether you are returning after years of experience with OLLI or are a brand-new member, we want you to feel comfortable with our program offerings and our effort to create a place where people feel the joy of learning and connection—we know it is a key to happiness and longevity!

